

Muskan's Journey Of Determination

Muskan, a bright 7th-grade girl, makes bangles for a living to support her family. Her mother has been unwell, and her father is a drinker, which often makes life difficult. Despite these challenges, Muskan is determined to study and build a better future. Her favorite subject is English, and she dreams of becoming a police officer one day.

With hard work and dedication, she started attending school regularly, and her grades began to improve. She performed exceptionally well in her Detailed Assessment Test, making her mother proud. The school provides her with every possible support, including mid-day meals, dress, shoes, notebooks, books, and even a tablet to study. Muskan's story inspires everyone to stay strong and keep working hard, no matter how tough life gets.
